Brillion West-Haven Assisted Living Facility

The Brillion West Haven Assisted Living facility is located at 220 Achievement Drive. We opened our doors at the end of October, 2008 and admitted our first resident to our Memory Care Unit in Nov. 2008. Brillion West Haven has 28 apartments and 4 different floor plans and sizes to choose from. The Memory Care Unit has 13 apartments and serves residents with moderate to severe Dementia / Alzheimer's. Assistance with dressing, ambulating, personal hygiene, bathroom hygiene, safety issues, activities and much more are provided daily. Our meals served 3 times a day are all home cooked and nutritious snacks are provided throughout the day. Our cooking club has proudly produced their first batch of homemade egg noodles and most recently baked a traditional Easter Bread baked in tin cans and covered with a creamy frosting. Fun to watch and good to eat.

Brillion West-Haven also has 15 Assisted Living apartments. Services listed above are offered daily to all our residents. Residents level of ability to take care of themselves widely vary from resident to resident. What is important to know about Brillion West-Haven is that "you don't have to be able to take care of yourself". Brillion West-Haven is licensed to offer care as close to a nursing home as possible for an Assisted Living. Also, our mission is to ensure that as our residents change, we can modify our care to meet their needs up to and including end of life services.

Our community has competitive rates, but there is no competition with the services we provide. You will be pleasantly surprised with our new rates.

We welcome you to stop in and see for yourself the friendliest staff with the most attentive care anywhere. Have a safe and happy summer. For more information call 756-9100.

Mark Glasow Benefit
July 18, 2009
3pm - Midnight
At the Reedsville Fire Station
Brats/Burgers/Bake Sale
Raffles and DJ Main Connection

Mark's journey began January 5th when he could not catch his breath. We went to Holy Family ER where he was diagnosed with a blot clot in his lung. They quickly transported him to Theda Clark for treatment. There things went from bad to worse. Mark was soon put on a ventilator due to strep pneumonia and was in complete respiratory failure. A few days later his kidneys shut down and dialysis was started.

Sepsis, an infection throughout his whole body, then set in. Now he was in full multi-system failure and chances of survival were very slim. Although he had gone through many procedures, tests and more tests, he kept getting worse. He slipped into a coma and had a fever of 106 degrees for several days. Then they asked the unimaginable...to stop treatment and keep him on comfort measures only. As a family, Mom, Mari, Mike and I with the help of Lisa

Peters fought to keep going to see if he could fight through one more hour, one more day. On Friday the 13th of February his fever broke and he woke up. Each day after that found him slowly fighting his way back to us. After eight weeks in the ICU he was upgraded to "serious but stable" and transferred to an acute care facility in West Allis. He spent 10 weeks there to be weaned off the ventilator and for major wound care. Now he has been moved to a subacute care center in Neenah. Here he will have intensive physical therapy and wound care. We have no doubt that Mark will be up and around and on his way back home soon. We continue to pray and stay positive as this is what has gotten Mark and all of us through.

Thank you for your continued prayers - Maureen Glasow

The Committee for Mark Glasow's Benefit is looking for prizes for the raffle. All donations can be dropped off at Jim's Service at 305 Manitowoc Street in Reedsville.

Two things you need to know about cataracts

First, cataracts are an inevitable part of aging—another thing we all have to look forward to, like wrinkles.

Second, cataracts are completely and easily treatable.

A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye, located behind the pupil. The lens focuses light, enabling vision.

As you age, your lenses become thicker, less flexible and less transparent. This makes it difficult for our eyes to focus at close range, hence the need for reading glasses.

Once the lens becomes hard and cloudy, we call it a cataract. Looking through a cloudy lens is like trying to see through a frosty or fogged-up window, making it difficult to read. When these cataracts are removed and replaced with clear, synthetic lenses, our vision becomes young again.

Cataracts usually develop slowly and painlessly, usually affecting those older than 60. The cloudiness may affect only a small part of the lens at first, so you may not even know that you have lost any vision at all.

Signs and symptoms of cataracts include:

- Difficulty driving at night.
- Sensitivity to light and glare.
 - Halos around lights.
- The need for brighter light while reading.
- Frequent changes in eyeglass or contact lens prescriptions.
 - Fading or yellowing of colors.
 - Double vision in a single eye.

In addition to advancing age, other factors that can be associated with developing cataracts include:

- Diabetes.
- Previous eye injury or inflammation.
- Previous retinal or corneal surgery.
- Prolonged use of corticosteroids.
- Excessive exposure to sunlight.
- Radiation therapy and certain chemotherapy.

Early on, stronger lighting and wearing glasses might help you deal with cataract-related vision problems. When your impaired vision begins to impact your lifestyle, it is time to consult an eye doctor.

The only effective treatment for cataracts is surgery to remove the clouded lens and replace it with a clear lens implant. Today, surgical techniques have greatly improved and the risks from cataract surgery are increasingly low.

I strongly recommend that patients do not wait for symptoms to occur and discuss any eye health concerns with your health care provider. Those with a medical condition, such as diabetes, should have regular exams by an eye care professional.

STRESSFUL TIMES CALL FOR SUPER STRESS MANAGEMENT SKILLS

Bills got you in a bind? Taxes got you tense? To-do list too long? Computer crashing? Feeling stressed? If you are under a lot of stress, adaptagens could be your very best friend. The word adaptagen was coined in Russia to describe the effects of Eleuthero root.

Russian researchers found that Eleuthero helped people adapt to stressful situations. If you're looking for a general adaptagenic tonic that will improve your health and overall ability to cope with stress, consider Adaptamax. This blend of adaptagens and tonic herbs helps reduce stress, improve immunity and counteract fatigue. It supports maintaining a relaxed and positive mood during periods of stress.

Some tips for dealing with stress:

Deep breathing - Practice deep breathing for at least five minutes, twice each day and it will make a huge difference in your stress level.

Drink plenty of water - even slight dehydration affects your nervous system, increasing your level of anxiety and nervousness. Skip the sodas, coffee, tea and energy drinks. All that sugar and caffeine will just add to your feelings of stress and anxiety.

B's help you be calm - B vitamins are particularly important for the nervous system and for energy production. And sugar and refined carbohydrates deplete the B vitamins.

Sleep - Sleep is vital to our health and our ability to deal with life's problems.

Physical exercise - any physical activity such as walking, swimming, golf, etc. will help you burn off stress hormones and relax.

Pamper yourself - get a massage, take a relaxing bath, listen to beautiful music, soak in a hot tub. Doing these things will counteract the harmful effects of stress on your body and mind.
