Have a Fun and Safe Summer!

Hello everyone,

I hope this finds you enjoying summer and all the activities that come with it. As I am writing this I am looking forward to getting to visit with many of you at the upcoming Fireman's Picnic. I wanted to take a moment to answer a few questions I have received about the mandatory insurance law that went into effect June 1, 2010. The law states no person may operate a motor vehicle in this state unless the owner or operator has in effect a motor vehicle liability policy with respect to the vehicle being operated. Many people asked "what if I do not own the vehicle I am operating". Before operating any vehicle ask the owner if they have a liability policy and if there is proof of that insurance in the vehicle.

Another question was "my child has my vehicle with them at college what should I do". Again as long as the vehicle is insured just be sure they have proof of that policy in the vehicle.

The last question was "what do I expect if I am stopped". If you are stopped by an officer the officer will now be asking for your driver's license and proof of insurance. Just make sure any vehicle you are operating is insured and has a copy of the insurance card in place and you should have no problems.

If you have any further questions you may contact our department or go to <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/rsb/stats.html> for more information about 344.62.

I hope you all have a fun and safe summer season.

CONFUSED ABOUT WHAT NUTRITIONAL SUPPLEMENTS ARE RIGHT FOR YOU?

ZYTO technology has a unit called the Compass which is designed to assist the individual in finding the body's preferences for nutritional supplements. ZYTO technology measures fluctuations in the energy patterns of the skin. The primary feedback mechanism is called GSR for Galvanic Skin Response. GSR is commonly used as a marker for stress. In a process called a bio-survey, a client places his/her hand on a hand cradle and the ZYTO software sends stimuli to the body using digital signatures representative of various alternatives like nutritional supplements. Each stimulus creates a unique GSR response which the ZYTO software measures and analyzes. Each response indicates a biological preference for the item assessed.

Knowing biological preferences help individuals to make better choices about their health; for example, choosing the right nutritional supplements. ARE THE RESULTS ACCURATE?

Yes. Health professionals using ZYTO technology have performed hundreds of thousands of assessments worldwide and report excellent results. A recent hospital study showed a high correlation between the information provided by ZYTO's technology and the recommendations made by attending physicians.

WHAT IS THE COST?

The cost is $20.00 and you will go home with a computer printout of your body's preferences for nutritional supplements. The process takes about 15 minutes.

5.3 Acre Mini Farm, in the Reedsville school district, yet less than 15 minutes to Fleet Farm. This property has some good 'guts'. There are hardwood floors in the bedrooms and living room of this ranch style home, newer circuit breakers, roof and well. The septic will be put in before closing. Now just $139,900

Two, 2 1/2 car garages!!! Sitting on a half acre lot, is this brick home, with most of the original woodwork in great condition! Newer kitchen cabinets. Sellers have now decided to put on a steel roof.....or give the equivalent in cash or price reduction!!!!

Priced at $49,900, you can't beat that!!!

Brick Home In The Country, on an almost 1/2 acre treed lot. Some hardwood floors are exposed and beautiful! One car attached garage, plus a two car + workshop detached. 1 full bathroom downstairs, and a 3/4 bathroom upstairs. Up-to-code well, and septic will be replaced before closing.

Very Good Bar Business. The zoning would work for many businesses, including but not limited to, an antique shop, craft shop, or bakery/restaurant. Summer Safety with Aurora

With summer in full swing, now's the perfect time to remind caregivers of young children about basic safety tips to keep our children safe this summer.

Let's start with wearing sports helmets. The key to convincing kids to wear a sports helmet is for adults to wear them, too. It also helps to have children choose their own helmet. If they like the color and design, they're more likely to wear it. Biking, in-line skating and skateboarding mishaps result in thousands of serious head injuries each year. It's estimated that protective sport helmet use can reduce the risk of serious head injury by up to 85% percent. If parents establish the helmet habit as soon as children start participating in activities that can result in head injuries, it will likely become a lifelong habit. A helmet should be worn on the top of the head, covering the top of the forehead. If it's tipped back it cannot protect the forehead properly. A helmet fits properly if it doesn't move around on the head or slide down over the eyes when pushed or pulled. The chinstrap should be adjusted to fit snugly, too.

It's important not to resell, donate or buy a used sports helmet, because it may be too old or damaged to provide adequate protection. The same holds true for car safety seats. Safety seats only provide adequate protection for about six years, because the plastic material can become brittle and the integrity of the seat cannot be assured. Parents shouldn't use a second-hand car seat, since it may be too old or could've been damaged in an accident. Buying a new car seat is a good investment to ensure your child's safety. After purchasing a new safety seat, promptly send in the registration card. This will allow the manufacturer to notify you if the seat is ever recalled because of a defect that could injure your child. Be sure to read the instruction booklet and install the seat properly in your car.

According to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, here are our state's requirements for car seat use:

- Children must be in a car seat until they reach age four and in a booster seat until they reach age eight.

And finally, don't forget the sunscreen! Remember to limit your children's sun exposure, have them wear protective clothing, and use sunscreen every day. Sunscreen should be applied 30 minutes before going outdoors and reapplied at least every two hours.

Let's all work together to keep our kids happy, healthy and safe this summer! Denise Brilliant, NP, is a nurse practitioner at Aurora Health Center in Reedsville. To schedule an appointment, call 920-754-4337.

Happy 4th of July!
